NEW PRESIDENT ASKS COOPERATION OF ALL

In the midst of holiday festivities let's pause a moment and look ahead into the new year so close at hand — a year that should find us ready to forge on with plans already underway, and one that will offer opportunity to accomplish much in the way of progress for the M.H.A.

We are going into this new year well fortified. It is indeed gratifying to me that you have chosen the members you have to serve as your board of directors. Each one has already pledged whole-hearted support to our many projects and plans.

Our year's program, while still far from completion, calls for many activities, and our opportunities are unlimited. I have done my best to distribute the responsibilities among the board members evenly and I assure you, each one will do his, or her, part to make 1949 an outstanding year.

To the retiring president, and to those of the directors who relinquished their duties with the closing of the calendar year, go my heartfelt thanks and appreciation for a job well done. It goes without saying that the work of the new officers, as well as myself, will be made far easier by the excellent work of our predecessors.

However, I want to say that it takes cooperation from each and every member to make a success of such an organization as ours. This is definitely not a one-man job. It calls for everyone to do his part.

I earnestly and sincerely solicit your help. I'll appreciate and give consideration to every suggestion, and I am going to need a lot of assistance throughout the entire year. I'm counting on you!

So happy 1949 to every member of the Metropolitan Horsemen's association, and to its many friends. You'll be hearing a lot from me from now on.

James A. Myers,
 President.

OUR COVER

While this isn't the picture we had originally planned for this month, our new president, Jim Myers preferred to share honors with the out-going president, Ted Dreyer, rather than appear in the spotlight alone.

Both outstanding horsemen, Ted, on the left, rides with the Aahmes Shrine Rangers, while Jim is a member and first lieutenant in the Alameda County sheriff's posse.

TED DREYER SINGS HIS SWAN SONG

Fellowship on every hand—that was our annual dinner dance and election party in a nutshell!

To me, personally, it brought a happy year to a successful and an enjoyable close.

True, we can't please everybody all of the time but, as yet, I have failed to hear one person that didn't pronounce the party a grand affair. The whole evening's entertainment was well handled. The committee functioned flawlessly and the huge attendance attested to its success. My appreciation to those who worked tirelessly so that everyone might have a good time has been voiced many times. May I repeat it once more?

I don't want to forget a special thank you for the beautiful statue and plaque presented to me. It holds a place of honor in my office for all to see and admire. It will always be a cherished possession as a reminder of a happy year.

To Jim and his new board of directors go my very best wishes for 1949. May they enjoy the friendships that have been my privilege.

The first big job for every one of us is to sign up members for the coming year. As you know, a great deal of thought went into the proposition of raising the dues. This was decided against, but only after it was voted to try for more members instead. This is up to all of us.

There is just one more point I would like to bring out. This is, that no money for social activities ever comes out of the association funds. These affairs are financed, in their entirety, by money-raising events put on several times a year for this purpose. Our major aim is to promote trails and to assist wherever possible in projects for the good of the horsemen and women of the Bay area. Concrete evidence of this lies in the newly erected Metropolitan Horsemen's arena.

So it's thanks for everything to everybody. May the coming year bring happiness and prosperity to you all.

Ted Dreyer, Past President of M.H.A.

SKYLINE FUTURE

Informal country life is beckoning many to Hillcrest Estates, the new Mason-McDuffie subdivision on Skyline Boulevard, with the first model home now nearing completion. Your reporter called on Niles Kinney at the tract office to secure first-hand information of interest to horsemen.

Be at ease, horsemen! . . . When Skyline Boulevard is completed, there will be two equestrian trails between, and one on the outer edge of each highway lane. In addition, an equestrian trail running from Skyline to Mills College has been dedicated to Oakland Park Department. This trail, a hundred feet wide in some sections, will be lined with redwood trees.

A beautiful Arizona flagstone gateway is planned for the entrance to Hillcrest Estates, and the plans include a watering trough for horses.

Hillcrest Estates CAN be the horsemen's paradise: the area is closer to both Sequoia and Redwood Regional Parks than any property now on the market; there will be space—room for corral, swimming pool, and the young folks can play cowboy in reality; the subdivision is divided into plots ranging from one to fourteen acres, and water, electricity, and gas will be available. An old-time resident of the area, your reporter claims that the view is the most spectacular in the world. (See full-page ad on back cover)

ANNUAL PARTY HUGE SUCCESS

The "best party we have ever had" was the opinion of all those lucky enough to be present at the annual dinner dance at the Moose City Club on December 3. Statistics bear out the fact that it was by far the biggest, for 355 dinners were served.

The large attendance is concrete evidence of the excellent job done by Lucille Simons at ticket chairman, Kay Walling, her assistant, and every one of those on the committee representing the riding groups and stables in the area.

The Metropolitan Horsemen's Association was honored by the attendance of many distinguished guests including: Nat Levy, President of the Park Board; J. Vendes Mann, Park Board member; William Penn Mott, Jr., Superintendent of the Park Department; Clifford E. Rishell, City Councilman; Capt. Ora E. Rhodes of the Police Department; Joseph Tobin, Park Program Representative; and Richard Walpole, Manager of the Regional Park District.

Unique Decorations

Ruth Green's idea of using a beautiful horse's head portrait and crepe paper to form a huge M.H.A. horse show ribbon, flanked by the colorful flags belonging to various riding groups, made the decorative scheme especially distinctive. The profusion of flowers secured through the courtesy of Martin Murray and his assistant Norval Moe, completed the symphony of color in the dining room.

Among those working at the hotel most of Friday arranging flags and flowers were: Mrs. Arnold Josephs, Mrs. Jim Myers, Mrs. Roy Tarr, Art Palmer, Cal Tisher, George Walling, Martin Murray, Ted Dreyer, and the decorations chairman, Ruth Green.

Flowers To The Ladies

The Misses Inez Thompson, Rhea Ludolph, and Corrine Smith handed out gar- denias to the ladies, and ushered people to their tables. Others ushering were: Mrs. Fred Carnduff, Mrs. Josephs, Mrs. Tarr, and Mrs. Green.

Financially, the annual party was definitely a success, according to Blanche Paul, chairman of the event.

Regional Meeting Jan. 13th in Oakland

Plans are rapidly nearing completion for the first regional meeting of the California State Horsemen's association, it is announced by Fred Anderson, vice president of Region 5.

According to Mr. Anderson, the affair will be held January 13 at the Moose City club, 1428 Alice street. Dinner will be served at 7 o'clock, followed by entertainment and dancing. Tickets will be $2.75 per person.

"This is not going to be a long drawn out business session", said Jack Richards, chairman of the evening when commenting on the affair. "We are planning to have it short and snappy, and promise a good time to all attending". Eddie Martin, of the newly organized Foot Printers is serving as co-chairman.

Special guests will be Ed Zwierlein, of Redwood City, state president, and Ray Stone, San Francisco, state secretary.

During the brief business meeting special consideration will be given to regional championship junior contests to be concluded before the 1949 state convention, as well as to adult championships. Dates will also be set for the three other regional meetings of the year. Present plans call for these to be held at Richmond, near Concord and somewhere in Southern Alameda county, thus enabling each district in the region to have one meeting of the year.

The meeting is open to all members of the C.S.H.A. and their guests. Those attending are requested to wear riding attire.

Hammers and saws are still in order at the Pinto ranch. The new indoor ring is completed and being put to good use in this rainy weather. There is a new blacksmith shop which is being enjoyed by all the horses as well as their owners. Due to the pick up in business, the saddle shop has expanded.

Harold and Carmelita Cummins have moved to their new ranch near Sutter Creek, Calif. Bill George has bought Marilyn Smith's nice pinto mare "Mar-O-ar". Pat Shell's Morgan stallion is well on the way to recovery, after running into a car and severely cutting his leg.

There are some new boarders at the Pinto ranch. Vagabond is a beautiful bay gelding belonging to Professor Toleman. Tom Talariea and Art Bull each have a nice gray mare. These two people are occupying two of the new stalls at the Pinto and feeding and caring for their horses themselves.

A flat saddle rider frequently seen grooming his horse is Colonel T. Hansen, who owns a bay gelding named Joe. Colonel Hansen was formerly manager of the Heather Farms racing stable. That good chestnut mare, Lady, is now eating and sleeping at the Pinto. She is owned by Jim Wheeler and Janet and Mrs. Phillips.
